

These will be trimmed and glued into your lit. log!

Freak the Mighty
Study and Discussion Questions - Chapters 1-9

Answer all questions in blue or black pen, in complete sentences unless otherwise noted.

(Answer in Literary Log. Begin at center tab(create one if you haven't yet.)

1. Draw the person who narrates the story in the box below. Fill in vital information about him adjacent to his picture (#1 answers need not be in complete sentences).

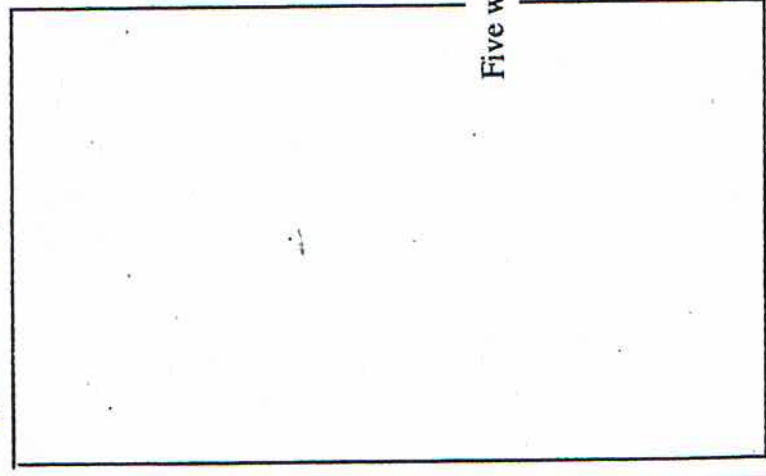

Name:

Nickname/ Alias:

Physical Description:

Five words that best describe his personality/ interests:

2. Draw the best friend of the narrator in the box below. Fill in vital information about him adjacent to his picture (#1 answers need not be in complete sentences).

Name:

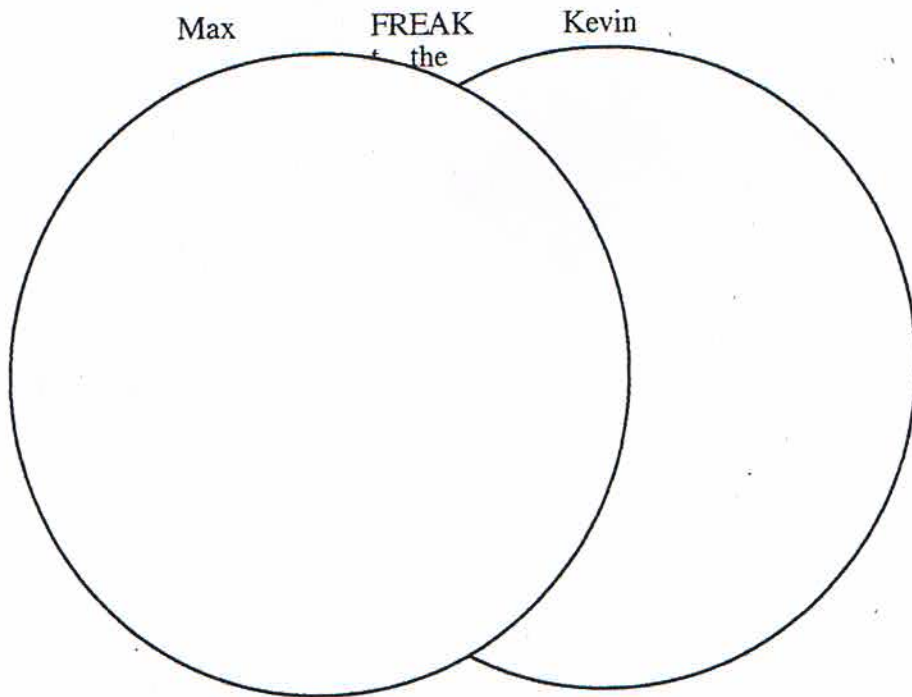

Nickname/ Alias:

Physical Description:

Five words that best describe his personality/interests:

This will be trimmed and glue into your lit. log.

3. Name and describe (each in 25 words or less) three other characters you feel are most important in the novel. Do tell why you think each is important.
4. Max says he, "doesn't have any ideas. My brain is vacant." Do you agree? Why or why not? Explain.
5. Why do you suppose Freak is so interested in armor and robots?
6. Karl Marx called religion the "opium of the masses." Freak calls TV the "Opiate of the massives." Explain the meaning of these two statements. (If you're stuck, ask your parents, call a friend, or answer in class this Friday after we discuss this question!)
7. Max says no one ever really touches him. How do you think it would affect someone never to have been touched as a child? Why?
8. How do Max and Kevin become Freak the Mighty? Use the Venn diagram below to describe Max and Kevin separately and as "Freak the Mighty."

9. Explain the statement, "Remembering is a great invention of the mind, and if you try hard enough you can remember anything, whether it happened or not." Do you agree or disagree with this statement? Explain. (If you're stuck, ask your parents, call a friend, or answer in class this Friday after we discuss this question!)
10. Why do you think Freak believes he is going to be the first bionic robot? Do you believe him? Why or why not?